

Investor FAQ | Our Operational & Financial Restructuring

1. What will happen to the Amyris stock I own?

The treatment of existing stock will be determined during the course of the Chapter 11 proceedings. Please contact your investment advisor or brokerage firm to discuss the options available to you.

2. Will Amyris stop trading publicly?

We expect NASDAQ to commence customary delisting procedures due to the company's filing of Chapter 11 proceedings.

3. Can I sell my stock now? Should I?

Please contact your investment advisor or brokerage firm to discuss the options available to you.

4. Is there any more information you can provide?

There is no additional information we can provide at this time. The company recommends that you reach out to your investment advisor or brokerage firm.

5. I am a convertible note holder. What will happen with Amyris convertible notes in bankruptcy?

Convertible notes are generally unsecured claims against the bankruptcy estate and the treatment will be determined by a plan of reorganization when one is proposed and filed.
